About NAWL

The National Association of Women Lawyers (NAWL) is a national voluntary legal professional organization devoted to the interests of women lawyers and women’s rights.

Founded in 1899, long before most local and national bar associations admitted women, the Association has historically served as an educational forum and an active voice for the concerns of women in the legal profession.

NAWL continues to support and advance the interests of women in and under the law and the social, political, and professional empowerment of women. Today, members of the Association represent all areas of legal expertise; public and private sectors; profit and not for profit; and large and small organizations. Through its programs and network, NAWL provides the tools for women in the profession to advance, prosper and enrich the profession.

These include:

- The continuing series, “Taking Charge of Your Career®,” designed to provide the skills and information that women lawyers need to reach leadership levels in their practice settings;
- The annual General Counsel Institute, dedicated to helping senior in-house counsel excel at the highest level;
- The program, “From Backpack to Briefcase,” aimed at helping law students successfully move from law school to the workplace;
- “Ready to On-Ramp,” a program designed specifically to help lawyers develop their own personal strategy for re-entering the legal workplace;
- Publication of leading articles relating to women in the law in the quarterly Women Lawyers Journal;
- Amicus support in the United States Supreme Court and other courts on issues of particular interest to women;
- International updates through our position as an official United Nations Observer;
- Networking and leadership opportunities for women lawyers at all levels;
- Liaison to other professional organizations;
- Annual publication of the National Directory of Women-Owned Law Firms and Women Lawyers®, designed to assist in-house counsel with locating women lawyers and referring legal work; and
- NAWL’s Student Mentorship Program.

Perhaps most importantly, NAWL, through its members and committees, functions as the Voice of Women in the Law™. We provide a collective voice in the bar, courts, Congress, and workplace to make women’s concerns heard.

By becoming a member of NAWL, you join and support women throughout the United States to advocate for women in the legal profession. We boast a history of more than 100 years of action on behalf of women lawyers. We want you to meet others like you, who are proud to be engaged in the practice of law and wish to work together for the continued progress of women in the law. As a member of the National Association of Women Lawyers, you will benefit from NAWL’s programs and publications, as well as from its networking and leadership opportunities. Please take a moment to join the National Association of Women Lawyers. Both men and women lawyers are welcome to join. The Association also welcomes membership of law firms and law schools.
